NEED A JOB?

PINK SLIP PARTY L.A. PARTNERS WITH PRADO RESTAURANT TO GET SAN DIEGO BACK TO WORK

Los Angeles, California, May 4, 2009 – Out of work? Pink Slip Party L.A. is here to help. Spring is in bloom, and Pink Slip Party L.A. is on the move – bringing to San Diego, their winning combination of partnering with local corporate recruiters who have jobs to fill, and the elegant, award-winning Prado Restaurant in beautiful Balboa Park to create a magical evening of business networking.

Beryl Smith, President, BCS Staffing, Inc, a recruiting firm specializing in Accounting, Finance, Human Resources and Administration Staffing; and Kati Hulick, CEO, Kati Hulick & Associates Meeting and Event Planning, a professional event planning firm specializing in corporate events, have joined forces to host Pink Slip parties throughout California.

What is a Pink Slip party? Pink Slip parties have been around since 1910, when they were formed in local taverns in New York to provide a grass roots movement for unemployed workers to join forces, commiserate being laid off, factories closing and the U.S. economy being in flux. Sound familiar?

M O R E

Pink Slip Party L.A. brings job seekers and recruiters together in a casual, social networking environment, where everyone feels empowered rather than uncomfortable, and job seekers can get advice that will help them return to the workforce. Pink Slip Party L.A.'s mission is to help get California back to work city-by-city.

Join Pink Slip Party L.A. and sponsor, Prado Restaurant at Balboa Park, 1549 El Prado, San Diego, CA 92101 on Wednesday, June 3, from 6:00 – 8:00 p.m. at the Fountain Courtyard for a fun evening networking with recruiters, meeting new friends and watch your career blossom.

Admission: $5.00 at the door with RSVP (www.pinkslippartyla.com)

Parking: Complimentary Self Parking

$5 Specialty Drink, “The Pink Prado” and Seasonal Spring Appetizers will be available for purchase.
